19 PERSONS DROWN

Ferryboat Capsized on Tombigbee River in Alabama.

BOAT CAUGHT IN THE RAPIDS

Occupants Were Thrown into Swift Current and Drowned Almost Instantly—River Very Treacherous at Point Where Boat Capsized.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 28.—Leslie Vernuille, a white boy of Mobile and 15 negroes were drowned in the Tombigbee river at McGrews shoals, a little while after noon Thursday, while crossing the river in a ferry boat from the government's works where they were employed. They were on their way to dinner when the accident occurred.

About midstream the little boat drifted beyond control of the men into the rapids and soon capsized. Two of the negroes in the boat scrambled on top as it overturned but the other occupants were thrown into the swift current and were drowned almost instantly.

The young white boy drowned is the son of W. B. Vernuille, the chief engineer in charge of the government works at the shoals. Their home is in Oakdale, a suburb of Mobile.

The boy was not employed at the works, but was there on a visit to his father and was returning home when the accident occurred.

The Tombigbee river, at the point where the boat capsized, is very treacherous and has long been considered too dangerous for navigation by experienced steamboat men.

COMER FAVORS LOCAL OPTION.

Would Not Advise a State Prohibition Law for Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 28—The governor sets at rest all the talk about his incorporating in his call the question of considering a general prohibition bill when the extra session is called.

"In the call for an extra session" says the governor, "I would not employ a prohibition call and would not advise a state prohibition law."

The governor explains his position, saying that he had been asked by both sides about the matter. He says that when he was making his campaign throughout the state for governor he "stated in every county that I favored local option; thus giving every county the opportunity to vote as to whether or not they should have saloons, dispensaries or prohibition. • • • I favored the local option law as enacted by the last legislature and think that it should stand until the people have opportunity to vote on the question as a state policy."

Swears He Is 107 Years Old.

Huntsville, Ala., Sept. 28.—William Winkle, of Gurley, has filed an application with the state auditor to be transferred from a pensioner of the second class to the first class under the law recently passed by the legislature and in doing so swears that he is 107 years old. Mr. Winkle is believed to be the oldest man in north Alabama. He enlisted in the confederate army when he was 62 years old and served until the end of the war.

Another Standard Oil Case.

Findlay, Ohio, Sept. 27.—Another case against the Standard Oil company brought by independent producers was started here Friday in commonpleas court before Judge Duncan. The title of the case is George H. Phelps against the Standard Oil company, seven subsidiary concerns, John D. Rockefeller and seven other officials of the concerns.

Demand Made of Shah.

Teheran, Sept. 28—A signed document by high officials and the commander of the army has been presented to the shah to the effect that unless the sovereign accepts without reserve and will act accordingly to the demands of a constitutional government, they will resign in a body from his service.

TRIAL OF SENATOR BORAH.

Government Attorneys Turned Line of Evidence Into New Channels.

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 28—After having spent all of the previous day in bringing out the testimony of thirteen persons who admitted they had taken out claims to timber lands for the express purpose of selling them to members of an alleged land-grabbing conspiracy, the government attorneys in the trial of United States Senator Borah here Friday turned the line of evidence into new channels which they claim will tend to affect the defendant senator. The testimony admitted up to Tuesday has been confined to the activities of John I. Wells and Louis M. Pritchard, two of the men under indictment.

None of the dummy entrymen examined on Wednesday was cross-examined and the testimony that they received from Wells, the money with which to prove their claims, and from Pritchard, the $250 bonus for surrendering their titles went uncontraverted. Just prior to adjournment the prosecuting attorneys identified the signatures of former Governor Frank Steunenberg and William Sweet to a document said to have been a contract.

It is alleged that Stunenberg and Sweet jointly furnished the money with which the alleged fraudulent transactions were carried on.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.

Wild Reports of Possible Trouble Proved To Be Groundless.

Mobile, Ala., Sept 28—Wild reports in which there was no credence caused one company of the militia to be sent to Plateau, a negro settlement three miles from Mobile at 4:45 o'clock Friday morning.

The reports were started by persons of no authority and there was not the slightest occasion for sending for troops.

Several families who were employed at a factory near Plateau, came to the city saying that the negroes were holding secret meetings and were going to avenge the death of a negro, Moss Bassett, who was lynched on Sunday morning for attempting to rape an aged white woman near the place.

At 7 o'clock the place was very quiet and not the least trouble is expected. The affair in many instances has been greatly exaggerated.

INCENDIARY FIRE.

Hundreds of Houses Burned at Wu Chow, China—Loss of Life.

Hong Kong, Sept. 28.—Hundreds of houses and many boats and pontoons were destroyed Friday by a fire at Wu Chow.

It is feared that the loss of life was heavy.

The conflagration is said to have been due to incendiarism growing out of the recent establishment of a new interior customs station at Wu Chow, the inhabitants of which are bitterly opposed to any extra taxation.

Names of New Battleships.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—North Dakota will be the name of the battleship No. 22, one of the new 20,000-ton vessels, contracts for which were recently awarded by the navy department. The other vessel as heretofore announced, will be called the Delaware. President Roosevelt has decided that as so many naval vessels bear the names of New York cities it would be unfair to carry out the original plan of naming No. 23 the New York, and of changing the cruiser of that name to the "Saratoga."

Drink, Despair, Death.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 28.—Joseph Devore, aged 66, a civil war veteran of Forest, shot himself to death here with a rifle. He had been drinking and was despondent.

Well Known Mason Dies.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 28.—Thomas J. Barchus, one of the most widely known Masons in the south, died here at an advanced age Tuesday.

Close Election at Gray, Ga.

Gray, Ga., Sept. 28.—The election here for local taxation for school purposes was carried by a majority of one vote.

F. E. C. RY. WILL BE COMPLETED

To Key West Probably By First Of January, 1909.

250 MILES NEARER TO PANAMA

Than Any Other American Port—Tremendous South and Central American Business Wating Transportation—Will Increase American Trade.

In a lengthy letter to The Manufacturers' Record, Mr. J. E. Ingraham, third vice-president of the F. E. C. Ry., gives an exhaustive review of the Central and South American commercial possibilities directly affecting South Florida. He says in part:

"By the first of January, 1909, it is expected that the extension of the Florida East Coast railway, now under construction from Miami across the Florida Keys to Key West, will be completed, thus giving rail connection to the most southerly and one of the finest harbors on the Gulf coast with all parts of the United States. The line is now being completed to Knight's Key, 52 miles north of Key West, where facilities are being provided for handling freight and passenger business this winter, and which will be used for that purpose until the line to Key West is finished.

"The principal channels into Key West harbor are Southeast channel, which has a depth of water of not less than 30 feet, and the Southwest channel not less than 27 feet, so that the entrances are all that could be desired to make the harbor accessible, and is sufficiently commodious to accommodate a considerable fleet of ocean-going vessels as well as smaller craft.

"In connection with the Panama canal, however, Key West possesses special advantages, as it is actually 250 miles nearer the Gulf entrance to the Panama Canal than any other city in the United States and 300 miles nearer than Mobile or New Orleans.

"The countries of Central and South America offer exceptional possibilities for future trade in all commercial and industrial lines, and the terminal facilities at Key West will be constructed with a view of affording not only every possible facility for handling the trade of Cuba and the other islands of the West Indies, but more particularly with a view of stimulating and increasing the trade of the Southern States with the Central and South American countries, of which, at present, we handle such a small proportion. Large and commodious wharves for the prompt and economical transfer of freight and passengers will be constructed, immense warehouses erected, and ample track facilities provided for the rapid loading and unloading of vessels of large size, and arrangements perfected for quick transfers to and from cars.

"With a view, therefore, of bringing to the attention of Southern boards of trade, business men and manufacturers, and all interested in our trade expansion, I beg to submit some data as to how much business the Central and South American ports are doing, who they are doing it with and the character of the exports and imports of these countries, and thus show the vast possibilities for commercial trade and development of markets for the products of Southern factories that can be opened in this territory from the United States, which in a marked degree adds much to the wealth and commercial importance of the South Atlantic and Gulf States.

"As an example of the wonderful growth in trade of that section the following figures are significant."

There follows a list of countries and figures that are extremely interesting. They show conclusively the business that awaits the completion of the F. E. C. railway to Key West, an undertaking that in case of completion as soon as conditions will permit.

OCEAN'S BOTTOM RAISED.

New Mountain Peak Formed by Recent Upheavals in the Far North.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 28.—Captain A. J. Henderson, of the revenue cutter Thetis, on arrival here from an Arctic expedition, confirmed with official reports the occurrence of a violent volcanic eruption of Mt. [illegible], on Sept. 1, and the existence of a new peak rising from the sea forming a part of the Bogoslov formation.

The latest addition is the fourth, and with its appearance the bottom of the ocean has raised until channels formerly sufficiently large for the passage of ships are now dry land.

The Makushin volcano was threatening for six hours, and ashes heavily impregnated with sulphur fell to a depth of three-eights of an inch.

The mountain is 25 miles from Unalaska. Reports made to Captain Henderson in the north state three other similar volcanic disturbances have occurred along the Alaskan coast during the present summer.

ACK HALE TESTIFIES.

Makes Sweeping Denial of Charge of Murder Against Him.

Bristol, Tenn., Sept. 28.—Ack Hale, who is on trial at Huntsville for the murder of Lillie Davis, the crime having been committed in East Hill cemetery, in the city last March, on Thursday took the stand in his own behalf and gave substantially the same version of the tragedy as when first arrested a few minutes after the fatal shot was fired.

Hale made a sweeping denial of the charge of murder, and contradicted all the witnesses for the prosecution as to the events of the afternoon and evening on which the girl met her death. He identifies that he had been intimate with the alleged victim, but officers were called in relation and declared that he denied [illegible] arrest that there had been any [illegible] between them.

In several other important [illegible] Hale's story was shaken [illegible] cross-examination or by rebuttal evidence.

AT THE JAMES-TOWN EXPOSITION

A Visitor Tells How to Get Your Money's Worth.

ALL ARE AFTER THE NICKLE

Florida Legislature Made No Mistake in Failing to Make Appropriation for Exhibit—Everything for Sale Except Government and State Exhibits.

(By Dr. L. Montgomery.)

The A. C. L. from Florida lands you across Elizabeth river into Norfolk at 8:30 a. m. If you wish to see the Exposition without interruption, when you land in Norfolk it is best to go up Main street a few blocks to Church street; there take a Pine Beach car, which will carry you for 10 cents to the main entrance. Go right into the grounds and stop at the Inside Inn. This hotel fronts on Hampton Roads, and the rates are $3 a day for room, or $4 a day for room and meals. Out of this they pay what otherwise would be your entrance fees to the Exposition. You can go on the European plan ($1 a day for room) the best places to get meals for the money you pay at the "Old Canvvater Mill Restaurant," the "Old-Time Tavern," or "Powell and Benson." These are the three best places I found inside the grounds to get a meal, but the prices in all poor, as you will be robbed in one when you get there. The exhibits generally are good, and do credit to the enterprise of the Nation. The surroundings is very poor. The most of many of the exhibits seem to be closed most of the time. At least ninety per cent of the exhibits in the buildings there without any person to explain, or tell you anything about them. There is attendance upon exhibits to be there more in the capacity of salesmen-and-women than anything else, as very nearly everything you see is for sale. This does not apply to the Government nor the State buildings, but it does apply to the buildings in which all the States (except Florida) have exhibits. Florida has no exhibit except that is made by the railroads. I think the Legislature was wise in not making an appropriation. You see people from all over the globe, but never stop to think from what State they are hailing. If you go there to see things you may get value received for your money, but if you go there to learn anything you will get left. For instance, in the Ivey Incubator building a man was telling all about it. A visitor from South Carolina asked him what temperature they kept the incubators. He said 97 degrees. He said 98 was normal, but they kept it two degrees above normal.

One thing you want to see is the relief map showing the back route and topography of the Panama Canal. It shows you every foot of land and water from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It is made of earth-stone and water and represents the real thing. It is 60 feet wide by 120 feet long.

The building of the States is the most instructing. The Smithsonian Institute is good. The educational display is splendid, equal to anything of the kind I ever saw. Not much machinery, very little manufacturing, no picture gallery, no livestock worth looking at. The cycloramas, battle between the Merimac and the Monitor, is splendid. The second battle of Manassas is good, and the Battle of Gettysburg is fine. Be sure and go on a warship when you feel rested. You will be tired when you come out. From start to finish you will ascend and descend sixteen stairways, and be in all temperatures short of being cooked. Sometimes 20 feet below the water and sometimes 20 feet above water. Be sure and go in the Kitchen and see how they cook, particularly making soup in a 100-gallon kettle stirred with a boat oar, but be sure and don't fall in. If you do you will be in the soup, and that will be the end of you.

Be sure to be at the band stand at the foot of the Government pier, from 7 till 9 p. m. Besides the music you will have a full view of the electric display, which is beautiful.

The Philippines building will not come up to your expectations. The Japanese display is good, and they are in for every nickle they can get out of you.

Of the State exhibits in the general States building the exhibits of North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Missouri and California were the best. Really, these exhibits were extra good. Georgia, Kentucky and other States had good exhibits, but nothing to come up to the first five mentioned.

After you have been there a day or two you will find the best way to get value received for your money is to have all the fun you can, and for this purpose you want to go on the War Path (the same as the Midway of other expositions.) During all my stay I never met but one man from Florida on the Exposition grounds. That was Dr. Alderman. He was on the War Path every time I saw him. Of course, I was there too. Now to have the most fun you want to go to the Wild West Show—similar to Buffalo Bill's, but better. The horsemanship of the Indian girls was remarkable. They all rode astride on men's saddles, and were not surpassed in activity or their management of their horses by any of the men. I believe that for health and happiness every girl should be taught to ride horseback, and if any man is bogy enough to think that she ought to ride a side saddle he ought to be made to ride a side saddle all the balance of his days. Why a girl should not ride astride, same as a boy, is a question that no reasonable person will answer in the negative. The excellence and worth of womanhood as a helpmate for men, is coming to the front in many ways that fifty years ago would have been considered out of place and unlady-like. Be sure and see the Destruction of San Francisco, and take a railway tour through Colorado. See the perfect, normally-formed little woman 27 inches high, with a baby 20 months old which runs all about, talks intelligently for a child of its age and is almost as tall as its mother. Its father is an intelligent dwarf just a little larger than its mother.

In the Liberal Arts building I saw a beautiful brunett Assyrian girl, 18 years old, born in Damascus, the oldest city in the world. She said she did not like American men because they were too cold-hearted. I told her that was only an expression of modesty caused by being in company. She laughed and said she was glad I told her—she had taken it to be the nature of the men. I told her if she would just stay over here she would find American men to be fully up to date.

If you will keep memoranda and go all through you will see at the Exposition fourteen different types of man. They all differ in color, in statue and in expression. They no doubt differ in natural disposition, but they are all alike in one thing—they are all after the nickle.

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Poisonous substances are then absorbed into the blood. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills.

In the Mayor's Court.

In the mayor's court Thursday morning there were three cases. These were:

Ed Turner and L. E. Owens, engaging in a game of chance, $7.50 and costs each.

Henry Beasley, drunk, $1 and costs.

Butch Tisby, gambling case was postponed until next Monday morning, owing to absence of witnesses.

The New Pure Food and Drug Law.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. J. W. McCollum & Co.

BOUGHT PECAN GROVE.

Colson & Bowers Have Secured Fine Possession on Lake Santa Fe.

There was an important deal consummated in this city a day or two ago, when B. R. Colson and G. M. D. Bowers closed the trade by which they came into possession of twenty acres of fine land planted in pecan trees on Lake Santa Fe, near Waldo.

This trade was made with Dr. L. W. Murphy, owner of the property, who gave good reasons for selling. It is one of the finest budded groves in this section of the country, and the new owners are to be congratulated upon their possession.

CARD FROM DR. KELLEY.

Says School Will Not Open Monday, and Explains Reason Why.

To Teachers and Patrons of Gainesville High School:

Owing to the resignation of Prof. McBeath, it will be impossible for the school to open on the 30th inst. I am hopeful that I can arrange for the opening soon, and, when ready, will give you notice through the columns of The Sun. Very respectfully,

J. L. KELLEY.

Gainesville, Sept. 26, 1907.

Happy Home Marriage.

A happy home marriage was solemnized in North Gainesville on Thursday, the contracting parties being Walter E. Adams of DeLand and Miss Lola Dykes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dykes.

The ceremony occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Thos. P. Hay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. It was a quiet affair, only members of the family of the bride being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams left immediately over the Atlantic Coast Line for Trenton, where they will visit the groom's relatives. After a visit there of a few days they will return to DeLand, where Mr. Adams is engaged in business, and where they will make their future home.

Cures May Fever and Summer Cold.

A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Plate Window Fell.

One of the large plate-glass panes on the upper floor of The G. W. Hyde Company's building in some way lost its position Wednesday night and fell to the street, a distance of twenty feet or more, breaking into a thousand pieces.

The crash was heard for several blocks, and attracted many people to the scene.

It was a fortunate thing that no one was under the spot where the glass fell at the time, as there would have been something serious to have told of the incident.

If Its a Reputation

You are after, White's Cream Vermifuge has a world wide reputation as the best of all worm destroyers, and for its tonic influence on weak and unthrifty children. It improves their digestion and assimilation of their food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to health and vigor natural to a child. If you want a healthy, happy child get a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Tremont House Improvements.

The Tremont House, corner West Orange and North Pleasant streets, recently rented by Mrs. Brown, is undergoing a thorough repair, and will soon be in presentable shape to take care of the traveling public. For many years the house has needed repair, and the conditions have grown worse. The location is good, but the condition the house has been a backset, which has been felt by everyone who entered the place.

OPENING OF SCHOOL MUST BE DELAYED

Superintendent Kelley Will Not Begin With Inferior Head.

PROF. M'BEATH'S RESIGNATION

Upset the Original Plans, Which Had Been Announced, Hence It is Important and Imperative That Opening Be Delayed for Few Days.

Dr. J. L. Kelley, Superintendent of Public Instruction, as well as members of the Gainesville special district, is in a stew as regards the opening of the Gainesville Graded and High School, fall term, which was announced for next Monday, September 30.

This complication of affairs has come about on account of the sudden resignation of Prof. Tom F. McBeath, principal of the school, who has held the position with such efficiency and such ambition for the past two years, and who has left the position on account of a better job offered him at the Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus, Miss.

This offer was quite a compliment to Professor McBeath, who is regarded the whole Southland over as an educator of superior ability, but coming at the time when Prof. McBeath had already contracted as principal of the Gainesville Graded and High School for another year, the acceptance is rather hard on the superintendent and board of trustees, as it will not give them sufficient time to secure another teacher of the required ability and standing for this school.

Good teachers—that is, teachers who are qualified for heads of departments—are scarce in this section of the country, as everywhere else. Dr. Kelley does not propose to place an inferior instructor in charge of the Gainesville school, hence has decided to postpone the opening of the school until the right man can be secured.

THE UNION ACADEMY.

Institution for Colored People Will Open Next Monday Morning.

From Saturday's Daily Sun.

The Union Academy, which is the Gainesville school for the colored people, will open in due form on Monday morning, September 30, and all indications so far point to the best attendance ever shown in the history of the school.

Prof. T. E. DeBose, one of the best colored educators in the State, will have charge of the school. He will be assisted by Louis Artson, also a well-known and prominent colored teacher, and, with the faculty behind them, there is no doubt but that the next session of Union Academy will be one of prosperity and success.

In speaking of the school building and its surroundings Thursday, Prof. DeBose stated that everything was in readiness for a proper and successful opening. He said that the grounds had been put in good condition, the building had been repaired, and altogether everything was in first-class order.

Prof. DeBose, who has been the principal of the school for several years, is deserving of a great deal of credit for the excellent record made. He is a devoted leader of his profession, and never loses an opportunity to show his energy and ability to make a good school.

Prof. DeBose's assistant, Prof. Louis Artson, is also a good man, and has proved his ability as a teacher in the county. He has held good schools, and his character and knowledge should be worth something and gain him laurels among his race here.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SANTA FE NOTES.

Cotton Badly Damaged by the Continued Rains.

Santa Fe, September 27.—The severe rain which began in earnest Sunday night and, except for a few short periods, has continued ever since, has done great damage to the cotton crop here. Owing to the scarcity of labor large quantities of cotton was unpicked and is sprouting in the fields. Unless there is a break in the weather soon the loss will be heavy.

W. B. Holder has just completed a commodious storehouse on his property and will open an assortment of groceries soon.

Miss Tessie Doke, one of the charming daughters of Hon. T. A. Doke, left Tuesday for DeLand, where she will enter the Stetson University. She will be missed by her many friends here, but all wish her great success.

Capt. and Mrs. W. R. McGregor and little daughter, Summer, have returned from a pleasant visit to Mrs. McGregor's parents, Col. and Mrs. T. S. Baisden of Live Oak. They report a pleasant time.

Mr. Mansfield, formerly of Citronelle, has moved with his interesting family here. He is erecting a commodious cottage two blocks west of the depot. We are glad to welcome him here. He will superintend the W. B. Holder turpentine business.

The Santa Fe section is harvesting the largest rattle-snake crop in her history this year. If the rate continues at which they are being hung up to dry there will be no excuse for having the little brown jug handy.

Politically and religiously we know a few people who appear to be made of bamboo wood just out of our wet swamps. They bend to everybody and to every doctrine. Some of them get as much satisfaction out of political campaigns as a woman gets out of a church revival.

The Brown-Jennings Hardwood Company, who are extensively engaged in getting out of the hammocks in this vicinity a large quantity of hickory as fine as can be found in the State, have not reported as yet finding even one tiger of the blind variety.

W. B. Holder, one of Santa Fe's jolly turpentine operators, is off on a short vacation for business and pleasure this week. He will return Saturday.

R. J. Futch, one of the leading merchants of High Springs, was visiting relatives here this week. He owns a farm two miles southwest of Santa Fe with fifteen acres of pecan trees which have been bearing for four years. It is the finest grove in this vicinity.

Miss Jettie Futch of Haynesworth visited relatives here this week, the guest of Miss Alma Blitch.

THE COUNTRY ROADS WILL BE IMPROVED

Men Have Been Engaged to Make Highways Passable.

SEVERAL GANGS ARE ENGAGED

Work on Roads Throughout the County Will be General, and Those Who Have Occasion to Travel Will Find Comfort in Riding.

The roads in future will be better than they have been for several months past. At least, we have the assurance of the various county commissioners to that effect, and as the commissioners have the work in charge it is no more than reasonable to believe what they say.

County Commissioner Pedrick, being from the Gainesville district, naturally has the largest territory to cover. The roads, too, are more extensively traveled, which means that they are more thoroughly worn. Commissioner Pedrick, however, is doing his best to make the highways passable, and is exerting a great deal of time in that direction.

The roads leading from Gainesville into the various sections of the country are now being worked. Teams have been sent out, and the commissioners are determined to put the highways in good condition in a short time.

J. R. Emerson, who has had charge of the building of the road to Prairie Creek, has been assigned to duty on the Rocky Point and Arredondo roads. T. R. Waits is in charge of the roads in Commissioner Paulling's district, and will also look after the roads in the district controlled by Commissioner Townsend, while Supervisor J. R. Feaster, who knows a great deal about road building, will improve the roads in Commissioner Dampier's district.

In all, the roads throughout the county will be thoroughly looked after, which will be of great benefit to the people of the county.

STOP THE STRENUOUS LIFE.

Weakens the Tissues and Lessens Organic Vitality.

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country tends towards stomach troubles.

Five people suffer today where one did ten years ago with sick headache, dizziness, flatulence, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness and many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that means at least two out of three in Gainesville and other towns, should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. Nothing else is as safe, yet effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na.

It is not a mere digestive taken after the food is eaten, but a true tonic, stimulant and strengthener for the muscular walls of the stomach, increasing the flow of digestive fluids and putting the stomach into condition that it does the work Nature expects of it.

So reliable is Mi-o-na in its curative action that J. W. McCollum & Co., with every 50-cent box they sell, give a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy does all that is claimed of it.

The Californian who has served 13 years for a crime he did not commit is entitled to any consolation he can find in the fact that he was sentenced to imprisonment and not to death.

S.S.S. RIDS THE SYSTEM OF MALARIA

Malaria is an atmospheric poison which we unconsciously breathe into our system. The blood in its constant passage through the lungs absorbs the germs, and they destroy the rich, red corpuscles of this vital fluid and reduce it to such a weak, watery condition that it is unable to properly nourish the system, and disease gets a foothold. Then the symptoms of Malaria, such as pale, sallow complexions, weak vitality, poor appetite, deranged digestion, and perhaps chills and fever show that the trouble is affecting every part of the body. Malaria also affects the liver, producing a chronic state of biliousness, and often a long spell of fever follows when the blood becomes fully contaminated with the poison. Chronic Sores and Ulcers, boils, aches and pains, and skin affections of various kinds often result from this insidious disease if the poison is allowed to accumulate in the blood in sufficient quantities. Malaria must be removed from the system through the circulation, and for this purpose nothing equals S. S. S. This great remedy goes down into the blood and drives out all germs, microbes and poisons, and permanently cures Malaria. S. S. S. not only cleanses the blood of the cause, but furnishes it with the healthful properties it needs, so that instead of a weak, germ-infected stream, spreading disease throughout the system, it becomes a rich, red fluid, nourishing the body and enabling it to resist disease. S. S. S. is also the greatest of all tonics, and builds up and invigorates the entire system while ridding the blood of the germs of Malaria. Persons who are suffering from Malaria will be pleased with the prompt and pleasant results produced by the use of S. S. S., and can take it with confidence, for it is an absolutely safe medicine, being free from harmful minerals of any kind. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

It is reported that Hon. J. N. C. Stockbridge will run for Governor, provided the primary is not called earlier than July or August. Now watch the [illegible] follows dinner for an early primary. In our opinion, August is the proper month in which to hold the State primary.

The Sun is pleased to note that the local committee has at last cleaned up the rubbish around the public square and the filth that had accumulated during the past few months. It is to be hoped, for the sake of the reputation of the city, that they will not again be permitted to become in such a filthy condition.

The trend of sentiment everywhere is for the abolition of the saloon. This is strikingly illustrated in Oklahoma, where the people have just voted by a large majority for prohibition of the liquor traffic. The tremendous sentiment which has now assumed such proportions in Miami and Dade county is simply another indication of the popular trend everywhere.—Miami Metropolis.

A 150-story structure is projected for New York and the plans are being made for it. This may sound as madness, but there is only one way New York can grow—and that is up in the air—and there must be some way devised to build higher buildings. This building won't be erected at once; but is being figured out by engineers to see if it is practical. If found so to be, you may be sure it will be put up. An expert builder says that there is apparently nothing in the way of building structures as high as desired; for it is all a matter of foundation building, and that has its mathematical methods which insure safety. But making a foundation for a building a quarter of a mile high is certainly something new by way of undertaking. However, it is worth remembering that such lofty structures as the Flat Iron building [illegible] New Yorkers any more. That is nothing out of the ordinary now, for it is being beaten in height, and that sets it back with the old numbers.

PRODUCTION OF COAL IN U. S.

So far as known, the first mention of the occurrence of coal in the United States is contained in the journal of Father Hennepin, a Jesuit missionary, who in 1679 recorded a "cole mine" on Illinois river near the present city of Ottawa, Ill.

Coal was first mined in the Richmond basin, Virginia, about 70 years after Father Hennepin's discovery in Illinois, but the first records of production from the Virginia mines were for the year 1822, when, according to one authority, 54,000 tons were mined.

Ohio probably ranks second in priority of production, as coal was discovered there in 1755, but the records of production date back only to 1838.

The mining of anthracite in Pennsylvania began about 1790, and it is said that 55 tons were shipped to Columbia, Pa., in 1807. Reports of the anthracite coal trade are usually begun with the year 1820, when 365 tons (one for each day of the year) were shipped to Philadelphia from the Lehigh region. Before this, however, in 1814, a shipment of 22 tons was made from Carbondale, also to Philadelphia. It is probable that the actual production prior to 1820 was between 2,500 and 3,000 tons.

More than 50 per cent of the total production of coal in the United States from 1814 to the close of 1906, or 3,540,000,000 tons, was mined in Pennsylvania. The anthracite production in that State amounted to 1,854,906,000 tons, and the bituminous output was 1,686,926,062 tons. Illinois ranks second, with a total production of 504,551,163 tons, and Ohio third, with 460,636,939 tons. West Virginia, although not coming into existence as a separate State until 1863, ranks fourth, with a total production in 44 years of 296,166,956 tons. Alabama comes fifth, with 150,462,856 tons, and Maryland sixth, with 142,073,920 tons.

An advance chapter from "Mineral Resources of the United States, Calendar Year 1906," on the production of coal in 1906, by E. W. Parker, Chief Statistician of the United States Geological Survey, will soon be ready for distribution. Applications should be addressed to the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

SMITH MUST STAND TRIAL.

A decision handed down by Justice Gaynor of the New York Supreme Court obliges General Manager Smith, of the New York Central railroad, to stand trial for manslaughter for the fatalities that resulted from the smash-up on the Harlem division some months ago on the newly electrified line of the system. The New York Central has moved heaven and earth to prevent Mr. Smith being made the example; but with all its power and influence, with all the Vanderbilt money, and even the intense persuasion of Chauncey M. Depew, late president of the line, the law says that somebody has to be responsible for those people who were killed. This is a very important case; and all the railroads of the country regard it apprehensively; for if Smith be convicted he will have to go to prison; and high officials are naturally alarmed over such a possibility, as it will establish a precedent that will make accidents hereafter mean something beside paying out a few dollars to square the victim or their heirs. But public sentiment became highly wrought over this Harlem accident, and there was a demand of "an eye for an eye." Terror reigns in the offices of the New York Central; but Smith will have to face a jury just the same. Public sentiment says it's right he should.

So closely is romance interwoven with the commonplace that hardly a day passes without some romantic happening claiming our interest. No stories, perhaps, read with greater fascination than those of waifs whom fortune has carried into the lap of luxury. Every charitable institution in New York, says The October Delineator, has its records, as marvelous as fairy tales, about what has happened to fortunate foundlings adopted from its doors. There is a New York heiress who rides in a carriage on Fifth Avenue; there is a daughter of a German baroness, and there is a daughter in a royal house of Europe, all of whom came from the ranks of New York's forlornest waifs. None of them even dream of their origin, which is a secret buried in the safe of the institution from which they came.

CANNOT SOLICIT ORDERS.

There is a statute in Florida against soliciting orders for intoxicating liquors in dry counties or election districts. The whiskey dealers have frequently violated this law, and we have yet to hear of an arrest being made for such violation. The law is undoubtedly constitutional, however, as evidenced by a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, in which it is held that parties representing liquor houses, breweries and distilleries cannot solicit orders in a town where it is prohibited from being sold by the State law, whether or not they are representing dealers in other States, who may ship under the interstate commerce laws.

The case at issue was that of Dilamiter vs. the State of South Dakota, and the Supreme Court holds that:

"The general power of the States to control and regulate within their borders, the business or dealing in, or soliciting orders for the purchase of intoxicating liquors is beyond question.

"The purpose of the Wilson Act, 26 Stat. 713, as a regulation of interstate commerce was to allow the States to exert ample power as to intoxicating liquor when the subject of such commerce than could have been exercised before the enactment of that statuté, which enabled the States to extend their authority as to such liquor shipped from other States before it became commingled with the mass of other property in the State by a sale in the original package.

"Since the enactment of the Wilson law, which expressly provides that intoxicating liquors coming into a State as though manufactured therein, the owner of the intoxicating liquor in one State cannot under the commerce clause of the constitution go himself or send his agent into another State, and in defiance of its laws, carry on the business of soliciting proposals for the purchase of such liquors.

"Although a State may not forbid a resident therein from ordering for his own use intoxicating liquor from another State, it may forbid the carrying on within its borders of the business of soliciting orders for such liquor, although such orders may only contemplate a contract resulting from final acceptance in another State. Vance vs. W. A. Vandercook Co. 170, U. S. 438, distinguished.

"The law of South Dakota imposing an annual license charged for sale, or soliciting orders for intoxicating liquors in quantities of less than five gallons is not unconstitutional because repugnant to the commerce clause of the constitution of the United States.

"The highest court of South Dakota, having held that the act of imposing a license on traveling salesmen soliciting orders for intoxicating liquors is a police regulation and not a taxing act, it is within the purview of, and not to conflict with the Wilson act. Papst Brewing Co. vs. Crensha, 198 U. S. 17, followed 104 N. W. Rep. 538 confirmed."

PEOPLE HAPPIER AND BETTER.

Mayor W. R. Thomas of this city was asked for his opinion of the condition of the people of Gainesville under prohibition, as compared with conditions which prevailed when the sale of liquor was permitted here. His reply was brief and to the point, and there is not a person in the city who can truthfully dispute his answer, which is as follows:

"There is absolutely no question about it; our people are immeasurably happier and better off every way since the banishment of the saloon, and the removal from over us of the curse of God Almighty that rests upon any people who tolerate the traffic in the stuff that debauches youth, destroys manhood, incites to immorality and lawlessness, pauperizes innocent women and children, turns fathers into fiends and homes into hell."

The legislative delegates to the Hague Conference can now go home and vote for appropriations for army and navy supplies.

The French are now playing billiards on an oval table. How can they ever expect the game to be on the square?

A GREAT STATE.

"Thousands of struggling farmers in Northern sections of this country, who are limited in their productions to the cereal crops and a few fruits and vegetables," says The St. Augustine Meteor, "Would think themselves in paradise could they land in Florida and review the almost unlimited number of field and orchard crops that can here be grown. And Florida is becoming more and more schooled in the art of putting to good account her advantages. Where years ago Florida looked to the West for her forage supplies, today she has forage to sell. St. Johns county farmers have corn and hay to sell, and this, too, from land that yielded a handsome money crop in the spring from Irish potatoes. Other sections of the State which are paying attention to the growing of cotton are now getting 15 cents for short staple and 35 cents from Sea Island, while those who are making tobacco a specialty are reaping a harvest on sun-grown at 25 cents and on the shaded product at $1 per pound. Lands that are now being cleared of a crop are being prepared for planting to the various kinds of vegetables. The guava, banana and other tropical fruits are moving from the southern extremity of the State, while the orange, which abounds throughout the peninsular of Florida, is on the eve of its exodus to the cities north of us. And so the work goes on from January to January."

HOME RULE.

A New York paper makes this suggestion concerning the interference of Taft, as Roosevelt's spokesman, in the municipal elections in Ohio: "If the voters of Cleveland should show that provincial and stiff-necked spirit which the Republican voters of this State displayed when Judge Folger was nominated for Governor, the contest in Cleveland will not be of purely local significance." It will be remembered that Folger, whose election was championed by the administration at Washington, and the Federal office holders, was overwhelmingly defeated by Cleveland. Mr. Roosevelt's pernicious activity in State politics may bring Tom Johnson to the front as a Presidential possibility.

Someone says that Rockefeller won't have water colors in his various mansions. It is not to be wondered at. He naturally wants everything done in oil.

COLEMAN—GAY.

Marriage of Two Popular Young People at Hawthorn.

Mr. Newton W. Coleman and Miss Ruth Gay were married at the residence of Rev. G. W. Riles at Hawthorn last Tuesday afternoon, September 24th, Rev. G. W. Riles officiating. Only a few friends were present, all of whom heartly congratulated them. Their many friends sincerely pray that the blessings of happiness and prosperity may accompany them throughout their married life.

Evans and Hayman Nuptials.

On Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, September 25th, Mr. A. E. Evans and Miss Alzade Hayman were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hayman, Oakton, Fla., Rev. J. N. Thompson officiating. The bride was beautifully gowned in cream silk poplin and the groom looked his best in a suit of conventional black.

Immediately after they were pronounced man and wife congratulations were in order, after which the guests repaired to the dining-room, where a sumptuous dinner was partaken of. Mr and Mrs. Evans left on the 12:30 train for Inverness where they will make their future home. The best wishes of their numerous friends go with them.

Death of a Good Man.

Mr. A. W. Hinson, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed citizens of Hawthorn, died at that place on Tuesday, September 24th, and was buried on Wednesday. The funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church, the building being crowded by sorrowing friends who had assembled to pay their last respects and listen to the pastor, Rev. G. W. Riles, pay deserving tribute to a good and noble man. Mr. Hinson was the last surviving constituent member of Hawthorn Baptist church, which was organized in 1853.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Eva Futch Entertains Young Friends in Grand Style.

One of the most enjoyable social events among the younger set for many months was the celebration last Friday afternoon by Miss Eva Futch of her thirteenth birthday. There were forty guests present in honor of the occasion and each one of them will ever hold the day in fond remembrance.

The residence of the young lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Futch, was profusely and handsomely decorated in honor of the event, the color scheme being pink and white, flowers principally chrysanthemums, being used to carry out the effect. The dining-room mantel was banked with ferns and chrysanthemums, and the room was lighted with pink candles. The cake, which was the center of attraction, was surrounded by thirteen candles, which were extinguished by thirteen girls—Omera McBeath, Mazelle Burkhim, Mary and Belle Fleming, Utera Rogers, Bernice DeLand, Kate Daughtrey, Lila Ford, Ruth McDonald, Helen Phifer, Lucille Livingston, Otelia Medlin and Helen Beeman, each of whom, with the same breath expressed a wish for Miss Eva's future happiness. Thirteen chrysanthemums also surrounded the cake, while jardinieres and vases were filled with the same flowers.

The afternoon was pleasantly passed by the elder of the young people in progressive games, while the younger ones indulged in a "peanut grab." In the progressive games the first prize, a box of Huyler's candy, was won by Bernice DeLand, the booby, a bank, going to Helen Phifer. Lucile Clyatt was the successful peanut grabber, and was awarded a Teddy bear; Hope McClamroch secured the booby in this contest.

At the conclusion of the games elegant refreshments were served and heartily enjoyed by all present.

Ruth McDonald received the guests at the door, while Lila Ford presided at the fruit punch bowl. Misses Ruth McDonald, Louise Nixon and Marion Futch assisted in entertaining during the evening. The house was a scene of beauty and merriment during the entire afternoon, and Miss Eva is to be congratulated upon the elegant manner in which she entertained.

SEA ISLAND COTTON.

Market Quiet During Past Week—Quality Continues Excellent.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 28.—The Sea Island market ruled quiet and firm throughout the week, with a good demand for the small amount of new cotton coming out. While the railroads have reported considerable receipts, much of this cotton has not yet reached the warehouses and has therefore not been offered for sale. The quality of the new crop continues excellent. Accounts from the crop are, however, not good, some reports indicating a poor yield and too much wet weather for gathering and ginning operations. Quotations for the lower grades are not obtainable, no stock being on hand.

Some Fine Pups.

Sheriff Fennell, who is a great admirer of dogs, is fortunate, as some thoughtful friend is continually remembering him.

The last gift to Sheriff Fennell was a pair of fine fox hounds, which came from Joseph, Texas, and was shipped to Mr. Fennell by his old friend, J. [illegible] Boulware, formerly of this county.

The animals are only four months old, and are very fine. Mr. Fennell naturally thinks a great deal of them and proposes to put them "on the trail" at the first opportunity.

OUR WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

President Roosevelt and Bishop Ingram to Play Tennis.

CONTEST OF CHURCH AND STATE

Secretary Taft Arrives in Japan and is Being Royally Entertained—Russia Eagerly Awaiting His Coming to That Country.

Special Correspondence The Daily Sun.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—President Roosevelt and Secretary Root almost passed each other in the depot here this week, the one coming back to Washington from his summer vacation at Oyster Bay and the other leaving the city for a long trip through Mexico. The President had finished the regular summer vacation that keeps the White House vacant for three months each year, and was making a flying trip to Washington before starting on his tour of the West. He will leave here about the end of this month for Canton, Ohio, where he will take part in the dedication of the McKinley monument. Thence he will go to Keokuk and meet the Inland Waterways Commission for a trip down the Mississippi as far as Memphis. There he will address the Lake-to-Gulf Waterways Convention in what ought to be a talk of National moment. The convention is planning for the long projected ship channel from the lakes to the Gulf, down the Mississippi. It is hoped that this dream will become a reality before the Panama canal is finished. With these two arteries of trade the United States will be in a position to make a bid for world traffic such as she has never made before, and such an all-water route would make cheap freights to foreign countries for practically all of the United States, putting the States of the Mississippi Valley on a level in this regard with the States of either the Atlantic or Pacific seaboard.

President Roosevelt will not remain in Washington long on this visit, but he will have a chance to meet at the White House the bishop of London, Bishop Ingram, who is here for the great Episcopal convention. It happens that the Bishop, though a much older man than the President, is also an ardent tennis player, and the two have arranged a match on the White House court to be played during the visit of the Bishop to the White House. It will be a contest of Church and State sure enough and the President will have a chance to win back for America some of the tennis laurels that have been lost by the American teams in England of late years.

Secretary Root's visit to Mexico is partly for pleasure and partly for business. There were a number of good results from his recent trip around South America. He was received everywhere in his official capacity as the representative of the United States, and his presence did much to cement the ties of international friendship and make possible the understanding with the Central American States and Mexico averting the recent threatened war. His present visit to Mexico has some connection with a better understanding with Mexico over the almost constant problem of keeping quiet the turbulent States to the south of her. The good feeling between Mexico and the United States has been growing of recent years, and the visit of Secretary Root will do much to increase it.

Word has come from that indefatigable globe trotter, Secretary Taft, who is now in Japan. He is being extensively entertained in the Land of the Mikado, but dispatches from Russia indicate that his coming is awaited there with even more eagerness. Some of the Russian papers believe that his visit to St. Petersburg will mark the consummation of a definite alliance between Russia and the United States. This, of course, is not so, as there are no offensive or defensive alliances of the United States with any foreign nations, and the only regularly recognized treaties are made by the President and approved by the Senate. But in Russia the wish is father to the thought, and as the Land of the Czar has a stupding grudge to pay off against the Land of the Mikado, the idea is welcomed in Russia that some sort of understanding may be reached with the United States in virtue of which the two countries will eventually join forces against Japan. Russia is firmly convinced that this country will have Japan to fight sooner or later, and would greatly like to be in on the job when the clash occurs. The Russian papers have been hailing the advent of the American battleship squadron to the Pacific as the first sign of this conflict, and think that the journey of Secretary Taft to St. Petersburg is directly connected with an international understanding.

Speaking of the cruise of the battleships, there will be an immense amount of coal needed for them, both before leaving the Atlantic coast and after reaching San Francisco. It will amount to almost 100,000 tons altogether. The tenders for the coal were opened at the Navy Department this week, and while they have not yet all been sorted out, the indications are that the foreign tenders for the coal to be delivered on the Atlantic Coast are a good deal lower than those of the home producers. The same is true of the coal to be delivered on the Pacific, with the exception of a rather unexpected tender from the mines in Alaska. They have put in a bid for 40,000 tons of coal to be delivered at San Francisco at a lower rate than any of the other bidders. It only remains to be seen whether the Alaskan coal will come up to the specifications of the Navy Department, and officers are to be sent North to make this inspection at once.

There has just been ratified an agreement entered into by the last meeting of the International Postal Union, of which the United States is a member, in virtue of which foreign letters will cost about half of what they have done up to date. Foreign postage has been at the rate of five cents for half an ounce, and this is cut by the recent agreement to five cents for a whole ounce, and three cents for each additional ounce. The most convenient feature of the new agreement also is that the sender of a foreign letter can purchase a certificate for six cents entitling the holder to a five-cent stamp in the country to which the letter is mailed. This will provide for return postage where so desired and will make a cheap and convenient medium such as has never existed before for sending small amounts abroad.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

From Sunday's Daily Sun.

Miss Lila Fraser of Alachua was in the city yesterday, a guest of Mrs. Thomas Roebuck. Miss Fraser, who is one of the popular young lady teachers of the county, was en route to Arredondo, where she will open school tomorrow.

Mrs. H. B. Arnold has returned from an extended visit in the West, her itinerary including Carson City, Nev., and other points in the far West. Her numerous friends here are glad to welcome her home again, and glad that the trip was of benefit to her.

Mrs. L. R. Wimberly, for many years a resident of this city but for the past two or three years proprietress of the Wimberly House in Cedar Key, has returned to the city, and expects to make her future home here. Mrs. Wimberly's friends will be glad to welcome her back again.

Attention is called to the change of advertisement of the Baird Hardware Company, which appears in this issue. This enterprising firm, ever alert to the interest of the people, offers a list of tools which is suggestive, and which are labor-saving. Call on them if you need anything in their line.

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realises his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Deputy Sheriff John Stephens of Alachua was in the city yesterday. He brought Clarence Smith, colored, who was convicted in Justice Caswell's court upon a charge of larceny, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs, or spend three months in prison. Not having the means to pay his fine, he must go to jail.

J. A. Abrams made a trip to Bennington section yesterday on business. Mr. Abrams states that the roads are very bad now, but that the gang was at work and doing everything possible to relieve the situation. The recent rains have played havoc with the roads in all sections of the county, especially those which have not been recently worked.

Mrs. J. B. Simonton of Micanopy spent yesterday in this city visiting friends and shopping. Mrs. Simonton is a lady of most amiable disposition, and has many friends here who are always glad to see her. She spent the summer in Georgia, where Mr. Simonton has a large peach orchard, afterwards taking in the Jamestown Exposition and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Steenburg arrived in the city yesterday from Maryland, and for the present will make their home on West Main street N., with Dr. and Mrs. T. F. Thomas. Mr. Steenburg was married a few days ago, mention of which was made in The Sun. His wife is no stranger here, having been connected with the millinery department of The G. W. Hyde Company for some time. Friends are glad to welcome them home again.

Geo. M. White was yesterday joined by his wife and daughter, Katie, from Washington, D. C., their former home. In future they will reside at 201 E. Arlington street, this city. Miss White attended the Technical High School of the Capital City, and when school opens will attend the High School here. Mr. White is the efficient bookbinder for the Pepper Printing Company.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Mrs. R. Wilson, which appears elsewhere in this paper. Mrs. Wilson is advertising a line of 5,000 yards of new fall ginghams, which she has just received and which she proposes to sell at ridiculously low prices. She has also a large assortment of Scotch plaids and new brown dress goods, the latest, which she will run for the next few days at popular prices.

A handsome water-color portrait, or painting, of little Miss Jessie Chestnut, which was done by Jas. F. Smith, adorns the window in the drug store of J. W. McCollum & Co., and has attracted a great deal of attention, both by the beauty of the little lady and the ability of the artist. Mr. Smith is one of the finest artists in the South, as has been demonstrated by several of his enlarged pictures. His work has taken premiums at several of the photographic and artists' conventions throughout the country.

Marriage of Two Popular Young People at Graham.

(From The Waldo News.)

At the residence of the bride's parents, at Graham, on Wednesday at 9:30 a. m., Mr. J. G. Millican of Parish, Fla., and Miss Julia McKinney were married in the presence of a very large assembly of relatives and friends, Rev. J. C. Collum of this city officiating.

After the ceremony and congratulations, fruit punch, cake and candy were served. The home was beautifully decorated and it was altogether one of the most delightful home weddings of the season.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. Chas. McKinney and is highly esteemed and loved for her beauty and charming disposition.

YOUNG MURDERER SLAYS HIS BROTHER

Information of a Startling Nature Comes From Levy County.

MURDERER ONLY TEN YEARS OLD

Boys Are Adopted Sons of Prominent Planter of Newtown, Who Took Them as Objects of Sympathy—Tragedy Occurred Without Provocation.

Information comes from Newtown, Levy county, to the effect that there was recently enacted a horrible tragedy near that place, between two young boys. Thomas and William Hodge, aged about ten and twelve, respectively, in which the older boy lost his life, his death having been caused by a shot from a rifle in the hands of the younger brother.

It appears from the information, which is meager, that the two boys, who are sons of John Hodge, a well-known character of Levy county, especially in that vicinity, were in a room adjoining by their father. At the time Columbus Horn, a well-to-do and well-known farmer of the Newtown neighborhood, took them, and assumed the responsibility of bringing them up in the way they should go, they were small children.

The boys had frequent quarrels between themselves, of which nothing was thought, as that is common among children, but upon this occasion the quarrel assumed in a regular fight, the altercation resulting quite seriously.

It is not known just how the row started, as it is said that Mr. Horn was not present at the time. However, it came to such a point that the boys drew their knives. One rushed at the other, while the other went for a rifle which he was apprised was loaded with buck shot. The report goes that both fired, but the younger brother was the more exact in his aim, and it is said that the first shot entered the elder boy's neck, breaking his neck and causing instant death.

No further information could be secured in the matter, but as the young murderer is so under ten years it is supposed that he will be sent to the reform school.

Levy county is remotely situated from the rest of Levy county, with only a poor mail route, hence it is difficult to secure prompt and definite information.

Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by One Dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

I was so weak from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend to my duties, when I took a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me entirely and I had been taking other medicine for nine days without relief. I heartily recommend this remedy as being the best to my knowledge for bowel complaints.—R. G. Stewart, of the firm of Stewart & Bro., Greenville, Ala. For sale by all druggists.

Friday Morning's Fire.

Fire at 2 o'clock Friday morning played havoc with a new building being erected by Elliot Waters, a progressive colored citizen.

The building was being erected on North Arredondo street, and was not quite finished. It would have been a nice cottage, and ready for occupancy within the next two weeks.

The damage was not learned, but the destruction was complete, as the alarm was not turned in until the building was two-thirds destroyed.

The origin it is believed was incendiary.

She Found Relief.

If you are troubled with liver complaint and have not received help read this. Mrs. Mary E. Hammond, Moody, Texas: "I was in poor health—with liver trouble—for over a year. Doctors did me no good and I tried Herbine, and three bottles cured me. I can't say too much for Herbine, as it is a wonderful liver medicine. I always have it in the house. Publish where you wish." HERBINE

The Popular Liver Medicine Will Keep You Well

A SPECIFIC CURE for all diseases produced by TORPID LIVER or IMPURE BLOOD. Do not fill your system with Calomel and Quinine. They act as rank poisons while they do check malaria the system, and leave a train of evil symptoms which require years to eliminate. HERBINE is purely vegetable and contains no mineral or narcotic poisons. It absolutely harmless and is the simple remedy of nature. It carries off all poisons in the system and leaves no injurious effects.

CURED BY HERBINE AFTER OTHER REMEDIES FAILED

Mr. L. A. Hicks, Iredell, Texas, says: "I was sick in bed for eight months with liver trouble, the doctor seemed to do me no good. I was told to try Herbine, and it cured me in a short time. I cannot recommend this wonderful medicine too highly."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy One of the Best on the Market.

For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has constantly gained in favor and popularity until it is now one of the most staple medicines in use and has an enormous sale. It is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases, such as coughs, colds and croup, and can always be depended upon. It is pleasant and safe to take and undoubtedly the best in the market for the purposes for which it is intended. Sold by all druggists.

New Chapter in Political Campaigning.

The conviction is growing among ...ntary men, politicians and diplo...ts here that the determination of ...e President to send the largest fleet ... battleships ever assembled to the Pacific next year marks the beginning of a new chapter in American political campaigning. It is pointed out that not even in the disturbed years immediately succeeding the Civil War was there found among arrogant Republican politicians courage enough to make a display of such magnitude, although we had, at that time, a neighbor on the South acting suspiciously. It is plain that Mr. Roosevelt is determined to be in a position, with his great fleet, to distract public attention from the discussion of domestic topics. It is now known here that this is his true intention. If he does no more than this, we will all thank God. He is like a child with a stick of dynamite, however, and is just as liable as not, while executing what he considers a smart political trick, to cause an explosion that will damage us all and possibly involve us in war, the end of which no man can see. The novelty of the performance is what charms the President. Heretofore the army and the various departments of the Government have been used for political purposes, but never until this year of grace has anyone attempted to use the navy for spectacular purposes. When Congress opens we may expect to hear more about this proposed parade of battleships.

Quiet in Political Circles.

Politics have been rather at a standstill for the past week, the most important Republican movement being the determination of Congressman Burton to run against Tom Johnson for mayor of Cleveland at the solicitation of the President and Taft. If Tom Johnson wins it may virtually eliminate Taft as a Republican candidate for President, and force Tom Johnson into the limelight as a prominent candidate for the Democratic nomination.

I am assured by one of the principle newspaper men representing Wall Street interests in Washington that "our people" are for Cortelyou. I drew out this information by saying I thought Secretary Taft would not be nominated by the Republicans.

Out of an aside remark made by Governor Johnson of Minnesota to a delegation of Nebraskan merchants, who went to invite him to their State for a speech-making tour, has been manufactured, by the same merchants, a story to the effect that Governor Johnson declined the nomination for the Presidency and declared himself to be entirely averse to the use of his name before a National Democratic convention. The truth is, he never said anything of the kind. He did say that he was not a candidate. No man is a candidate until he is nominated, so the Governor had plenty of company.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

F. L. S. in Atlanta Constitution.

"Let us think only of the future," says an Eastern writer.

"Lord, give us bacon and greens in the present!" says a Georgia editor.

The Reason.

"The major says he will die with his boots on."

"Yes; every time he is in his cups, and pulls 'em off, his mother-in-law locks 'em up."

Literary Revenge.

"The heroine in your novel doesn't seem to have a mind of her own," said the critic to the author. "She doesn't speak out."

"That's where I get even," replied the author. "I've been three times married!"

An Autumn Note.

This is a republic. Why do the Georgia poets, many of them, place Autumn on "a throne of gold, with an imperial crown?" She looks a right better reclining on a hillside ablaze with goldenrod, and combing her hair with a Georgia pine burr.

The Superstitious Author.

"No use trying to please that new author."

"What's the trouble?"

"Editor sent him $13 for a poem and $23 for a story, and he says that those figures are the limit of bad luck."

"Did he return the checks?"

"No; but he warned the editor to never let it occur again!"

Time Would Tell.

This from the Georgia wiregrass section:

"You have a good lawyer," said the judge to the old-time darky.

"Well, suh," was the reply, as the old man adjusted his spectacles, and surveyed the youthful attorney, "He's young yit, but I reckon dat by de time he gits a onderstandin' er my case he'll be ol' enough ter know mo' dan what he knows now!"

Brother Dickey's Sentiments.

Satan always got dis sign on his door: "Dis is my busy day." An' I must say fer Satan dat he ain't no loafer. Dar ain't no lazy bone in his body!

Ef some folks didn't think dey would git a corner lot on de streets or gold up yander it would be lots harder than what it is ter git 'um ter glory.

One day you'll hear a man hollerin' dat he wants ter git "in de swim," an' de very nex' day he's a-howlin' fer somebody ter th'ow him a rope so's he kin git out er it.

W'en Gabrul blows his trumpet some folks 'll go ter growlin'—dat it wuz always de way: des ez soon ez dey got good ter sleep, somebody wuz sho' ter wake 'em 'fo' dey get good rested!

Ahead on Wood.

"The Wood Trust," says The Billville Banner, "don't hit hard in this neighborhood. The editor has ten acres in timber, and has just bought two good axes and a crosscut saw on the installment plan, and whenever we have a recess from the paper we get busy laying in our winter supply of firewood. Subscribers long in arrears can settle their accounts by helping us chop wood. Now is the time to settle up on easy terms!"

Some Georgia Sayings.

Mighty few of us would want the earth if we had to split the rails to fence it in.

When you reach the hilltop don't forget your friends in the valley, for you may want 'em to give you a lift again when you come rolling down.

The Trust at Breakfast.

"What is my Government fine this morning?" asked the trust magnate, as he toyed with the breakfast bill of fare.

"Twenty millions," replied his secretary.

"Send them word at once that I can't see my way to meet it. My eyesight is failing. Only this morning, while taking a spin in my automobile, I ran over a cow and two ordinary human beings, and had to stop and apologize!"

The Old Man's Letter.

To the boy who was completing his education at a college the old man wrote:

"Dear Jim—I've learn tell, through your Uncle John, that you've took to writin' poetry, an' of that's the case, stop it before it goes too far an' gits too much of a holt on you. Stop it, Jim; stop it! They ain't no money in it—'cept you write poetry for tombstones, an' of folks once gits the idee that you're waitin' to write 'em up thataway they'll keep on a livin', an' you'll go hungry. Stop it, I tell you! Nip it in the bud! The world don't do nuthin' tall fer poetr till they're dead, an' then it plants 'em deep, an' puts tons o' monuments over 'em, to make sure they won't come back. Sell books, clocks and lightnin'rods for a livin', but stop the poetry-jingle business. The only jingle that's pleasin' to the worl' is the jingle o' the dollars an' the dimes. Your Uncle John used to write poetry, but he broke out o' jail 'fore they could lynch him. Stop it, Jim—stop it whilst the lamp holds out to burn! Ever'thing has gone up in price, an' you can't afford even to waste blank paper. So stop right now!"

How to Avoid Appendicitis.

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels, and restores the natural action of the bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Women's Pains

"I was a total wreck," writes Mrs. Beulah Rowley, of Champoeg, Oregon, "from pains I had suffered, for 4 years, every month. Sometimes I would be unconscious for 12 hours at a stretch. I did not know that anything could stop the pain entirely, but Wine of Cardui did. I advise all women suffering with painful periods to use Cardui and be relieved."

It does this by regulating the functions and toning up all the internal female organs to health. It is a pure, specific, reliable, female remedy, with a record of 70 years of success. It has benefited a million others. Why not you? Try it.

Sold by Every Druggist in $1.00 Bottles.

C. W. Bauknight, a leading merchant of Archer, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Bauknight states that the rains have been very damaging in his section, especially to cotton, and on this account the cotton crop will be much shorter than was at first anticipated.

Joseph Daughtrey of Ocala, who has been in the city on a visit to relatives, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Arnow, has gone to High Springs. Mr. Daughtrey formerly resided here, and has many friends. He is now operator of the Seaboard Air Line at Ocala, which is a good position.

P. G. Eckman, who for the past year has been employed here as a director on work on the sewer, left yesterday for Pierson. Mr. Eckman, who has proved himself a good man, may not return, as he has decided to go to South America. His friends here regret very much to give him up.

Chas. S. Hill has returned from points in the West End, where he has been in the interest of the Cummer Lumber Company, of which he is civil engineer. Mrs. Hill and child are now located in Lawtey, but expect to return here in a few days, as soon as a suitable house can be secured.

J. A. J. Strickland and son, William, of Hague, were in the city yesterday. Mr. Strickland states that the recent rains have almost ruined the crops of the farmers in his section, as the lands have been flooded. Cotton appears to have particularly suffered, as there was a great deal of the staple open in the field.

The Sunday School Mission and Convention of the Santa Fe River Association of the Baptist Church is now in session at the First Baptist church. Services are being held at 9:30 a. m. to noon, and in the afternoon from 2:30 to 4 o'clock. There is a good attendance and much interest is manifested in the proceedings.

J. D. Jones, a substantial farmer of the Alachua section, was among those who came to Gainesville yesterday, and while here called to have The Sun sent to his address. Mr. Jones reports an abundance of rain in his section—in fact, more than is needed, as the cotton crop has been damaged to a considerable extent.

Miss Kittie LaFontisee leaves today for Miami, where she will have charge of the primary department of the public school for the ensuing term. Miss LaFontisee is one of the very best primary teachers in the State, and her services are always sought by the best schools in the State. Her many friends trust that she will be pleased with her new position.
